Two months from to-day the Press Association meets in Yazoo City.

The Treasurer of Delaware is the latest defaulter. His shortage is $51,857.

The Conference of the Northern Methodist Church has decided, by an almost unanimous vote, not to admit women as members.

Don't depend upon your neighbor to do your share of the work in arranging for the Press Association. There will be enough for all.

Reed's ways should convince the Democrats of the next Congress that this country will not countenance autocracy and tyranny, even from the Speaker of the House.

Don't strowers send the best half of his "Globe" to his exchange—the inside pages. The others bear "patent," he reserves for his home readers in the little village of Oxford.

The Senatorial fight in Mississippi will result in the election of two good Democrats, neither of whom will support the sub-treasury scheme. Gen. Walthall will be one of those elected, and Gen. George seems to have a strong pull on the lucky key also.

The Indiana Legislature is for Cleveland for President. The Missouri Legislature also, and Senator-elect Vilas says Wisconsin is solid for him. It may be that his famous anti-silver letter will not injure him as much in the West as was first thought.

Great Caesar's ghost! Listen, friends of the Republican form of Government! These B. Reed, sub-treasury of the Congress just adjourned, said in New York Saturday night.

It will challenge the world to out to the equal of the Fifty-first Congress for the great good it has done.

Read either said what was not true, or the people who so ruthlessly repudiated his methods on November 4th, are the biggest lot of fools the world ever had.

Over two thousand voters failed to pay their taxes in Yazoo county. Consequently they will be disfranchised for two years—Woodville Courier.

Wrong interpretation of the new Constitution. These delinquents, by paying their taxes for 1890-91 and 1891-92, by the first of February, 1892, will be entitled to register and vote in the election of November, 1892. Another thing, four-fifths of the delinquents in this county are colored.

PRINCIPLES, NOT MEN.

In Yazoo county there are hundreds of true members of the Alliance because of principles enunciated by the order. These same men are farmers, every one of whom know full well what it is to "earn their bread by the sweat of the brow." They are men of unquestioned honor, of intelligence, and the very best citizens of the county and State. They are loyal to every governmental demand, evade no question of principle, and their integrity is irrefragable. These men, farmers though they be, are Democrats, have always been foremost in securing victory to those who were the declared nominees of the party. They have never conducted a political battle under cover, but in the bright sunlight of day have they proclaimed their principles, expressed their preferences for candidates for the various offices. In doing this the voters of Yazoo have always secured good, true, efficient men, and the political affairs of the county are in a quiet, healthful state. We can hear of no dissatisfaction in any corner, we hear of no threatening bolts from Democracy and its principles, we hear of no midnight meetings nor secret conclaves being held; no iron-clad resolutions are offered or passed, binding men as though they were ignoramus, to vote for Tom, Dick or Harry, because, forsooth, some outsider has issued an edict. This, the Herald says, is the position of Yazoo county politically today. It knows whereof it speaks, and we do not believe that any man or men can come into this county and force the Alliance members to vote for measures regardless of principles. The price of freedom from political ruin was too great, the victory too lately won, to be bartered away for a mere song.

In some portions of Mississippi there seems to be some desire to turn away from the principles of Democracy, a disposition to hold secret conclaves, and for what? Because the disturber is in the land. Let those who would force the issue that would split the Democratic party, beware. If they have grievances, let them be discussed openly, honestly, not by secret resolutions. The Alliance should condemn all such actions. They owe it to their order, they owe it to their own principles, they owe it to the people of this State, to support only certain ones for office, until those whom it is sought to thus defeat, are heard in their own defense.

As for Yazoo, we have no fears, and we earnestly hope that the Alliance of the county will set an example to those of other counties. Be ye alliance men, farmers, merchants or artisans, don't forget what Democracy has done for you; don't forget the heroes of many hard-fought battles, but be men of principles, of courage, of devotion to duty. Attacks are being made upon some of the worst sons of Democracy in this State; repel them until they are heard, and listen not to the siren song of the political demagogue. Let principles, not men, govern your every action.

THE FLOODS.
News of the floods of Friday and Saturday as telegraphed the metropolitan papers, is fearful. Throughout Mississippi, Tennessee, and Alabama the rains were the heaviest known for many years, and several places were visited by cyclones, adding terror to the situation. In these three States the storms seem to have raged with greater fury than elsewhere, though throughout the section drained by the Mississippi river, heavy rains are reported. The damage to all kinds of property is very great, railroad traffic being entirely suspended on several lines, because of washouts. It will take several weeks to recover from the effect of these floods.

Hon. J. H. BERMAN, Chairman of the State Alliance Executive Committee, and member-elect to Congress from this District, comes out squarely in an interview published in this week's issue of the Mississippiian, against the sub-treasury scheme. Mr. Berman further states that eight out of ten members of the Alliance favor the re-election of Senators George and Walthall. With Berman and McAllister both speaking against this measure the Herald is at a loss to know who is going to the rescue of Capt. Burkill's Messenger. A house divided against itself will fall, and Bro. Burkill should pull down the division wall and get back with the majority of the Alliance.

Now that Congress has adjourned let the Democrats prepare themselves for the new organization of the House in December.

The Herald has failed thus far to find one single Mississippi paper that desires the defeat of Senator Walthall, except the Chickasaw Messenger.

The delinquent tax-payers in Hinds number 1,474, 1,329 being white.

PALMER ELECTED SENATOR FROM ILLINOIS.

HE GETS TWO OF THE F. M. A. VOTES.

A special from Jackson to the Herald brings the glad tidings of the election of Gen. John M. Palmer to the United States Senate from Illinois Wednesday evening. Two of the Farmers' Mutual Benefit Association votes go to him, giving him a majority of two. General Palmer received 103 of the 204 votes on joint ballot. It was one of the hardest fought political battles in the history of the country, and the Democracy of Mississippi rejoices with the Democrats of Illinois in achieving their grand victory.

SPENDING MONEY FREELY.
The Congress just adjourned appropriated more money than perhaps any other in the history of the country, decidedly more than any in times of peace. The enormous sum of $550,000,000 is counted up, yet this does not include all. Such extravagance was never before heard of. The money of the people was spent as freely as the water passes out the mouth of the Mississippi river.

The surplus of $113,000,000 the Republicans found in the Treasury is all gone, and unless something is done to check this free spending policy of the present administration, the Government will have to borrow money, or issue bonds, to meet current expenses.

The Washington correspondent of the New Orleans Picayune furnishes these figures to show where part of the money has gone:

"The agricultural bill since it was taken from the appropriations committee has grown from about $200,000 per year to $300,000. The military academy bill has grown from $500,000 to $400,000 and has gone as high as $600,000 since the transfer. The Indian appropriation bill has grown from $500,000 to $1,500,000. The consular and diplomatic from about $1,000,000 to $1,850,000. The post office bill has grown from $53,000,000 to $77,000,000. The army appropriation bill has grown $500,000. The naval appropriation bill had about $14,000,000 the last year it was with the appropriation committee, since then it has grown to more than $50,000,000."

If such facts are not sufficient to insure the election of a Democratic president, then may the people well ponder whether the American form of government is best or not.

electing two United States Senators, receiving the Code of Laws drafted by the Committee, re-proportioning the Congressional Districts, are some of the very important things to come before the next Legislature. How very necessary it is therefore for each county to elect only the very best men to the Senate and Legislature.

Hon. Jas. A. GILLESPIE, editor of the Tupelo Ledger, is a candidate for the State Senate from the counties of Lee and Itawamba. As a member of the Legislature from Lee, Mr. Gillespie was faithful and efficient, and should be successful in getting to the Senate, will prove worthy the promotion. The Herald wishes him success.

The Meridian Daily News had the misfortune to have one of its "forms" "piled" Saturday night. Of all the detestable things in a printing office nothing equals a "piled form" just when it is ready for the press. The News has the sympathy of all the fraternity who know what "pie" is.

Reed declared in his closing remarks, that the "honors" of the Fifty-first Congress belonged to his Republican friends. Considering the result of the November election it might be said that there was no honor in that distinguished body.

If the voters of Attala county will elect W. M. Noss, editor of the Kosciusko Star, Chancery Clerk, they will have an efficient officer. Mr. Noss is a young man of much ability and the Herald hopes for his election.

We will meet in Yazoo City, and John says he will pass the bottle around—Oxford Globe.

Nothing but "water" here here, Robert. Suppose that is what you mean?

New that Congress has adjourned what shall we do with Hitts Ben-jy—Memphis Scimitar.

Let him append the improvements of the White House.

Capt. J. A. LARRY, only brother of ex-Gov. Lowry, died at his home in Baldwin, Miss., last week.

Capt. RICKETT has reached the pinnacle of immortality—he has no indifference of his famous good-bye editorial.

Judge W. M. HANCOCK, Postmaster at Meridian, died Sunday morning. His widow is a candidate for the vacancy.

THE RIVERS.

NO DANGER APPREHENDED.

Leaves Sound and in Fine Condition.

NEW ORLEANS, March 12, '91.

The following special telegram from New Orleans to the Herald was received yesterday. The river, it will be noted, is lower than at same date last year, with all the levees in excellent condition:

The State Board of Engineers consider the outlook favorable and report the levees from Baton Rouge to Passes in better shape than ever before. Above Baton Rouge system good and strong generally. Kamee and Etion are considered safe. It watched. No serious results feared from caving at Vidalia. Major Starling declares his district to be in magnificent condition. Stages of river to-day, as compared with same date last year, is as follows: Cincinnati, 43 feet; 1890, 25 feet 3 tenths; Louisville, 18 feet; 1890, 10 feet 6 tenths; Kansas City, 4 feet 8 tenths; 1890, 8 feet 7 tenths; St. Louis, 7 feet 5 tenths; 1890, 6 feet 3 tenths; Cairo, 43 feet; 1890, 48 feet 3 tenths; Memphis, 34 feet 3 tenths; 1890, 35 feet 6 tenths; Vicksburg, 46 feet 3 tenths; 1890, 47 feet; Greenville, 41 feet; 1890, 40 feet 3 tenths; New Orleans, 15 feet 9 tenths; 1890, 16 feet 2 tenths; Helena, 40 feet; 1890, 41 feet 4 tenths; Arkansas City, 43 feet 4 tenths; 1890, 47 feet 6 tenths; WALTER MANN, N. O. Picayune.

AT GREENVILLE—ONE BREAK.
The following special was received at 3 o'clock yesterday evening:

GREENVILLE, Miss. March 12, '91. The river is from 2 to 3 feet lower below Memphis than a year since at the same date. Present stage not dangerous and with the continued fall at Cairo, in spite of the present rain floods, the situation is not discouraging. The levee broke near Sunflower Landing in lower Choctawhatchee. Heavy rain from 7 to 10 p.m. Sunflower. It will do much more damage owing to the flooded state of the Delta streams.

GREENVILLE TIMES. In reference to the break reported above, Gen. B. S. Hicks said yesterday evening:

"The reported break of the Sunflower Landing I can't credit, as at this stage of water there should be at least 5 feet of levee at that point above water. The levee there is the finest in our whole district, with immense base and wide crown, and last year stood the test of a year's water, having one and a half feet to spare at highest stage. In addition, the levee levee this summer at and below Sunflower was raised to 3 ft. above last year's highest stage of water, and the levee of levee strengthened in proportion."

"There is at this point an old levee, which may have been built up to protect land left out by new line of levee, and the break may have occurred in this old line of levee."

YAZOO RIVER.
Following is the report of the Yazoo river at this point since Saturday last, up to 4 o'clock yesterday evening:

March 7th.....31.0
" 8th.....31.3
" 9th.....31.0
" 10th.....31.0
" 11th.....31.7

A fall of six-tenths since Monday. The river has a strong current at this point.

On March 12th, '90, gauge read.....30.0
H. C. GOODY, Gauge Keeper.

FREE RUN ITEMS.
EDITOR HERALD: Not wishing our little hero to be ignored or forgotten, and desiring to keep pace with the onward march of progress, we will try through the medium of your valuable paper to bring ourselves occasionally before the admiring gaze of the public.

The violent rains of the past week caused Tarda to rise to a height which hardly finds a parallel in the memory of the inhabitants of this vicinity. The creek, as if to try the strength of its new found greatness, rushed wildly on, and by its resistless force swept everything before it, and proved itself a veritable demon of destruction.

The bridge on the Free Run and Zeigler's road is a complete wreck. The farmers are rather backward owing the bad weather, but all seem cheerful and hopeful of a better time in the near future. We have had very few visitors during the past week, owing, no doubt, to the bad weather, for our people are just as hospitable and our girls as charming as ever.

Mr. S. D. Henry left Saturday evening to attend the conference school at Jackson. He is one of our brightest boys and we wish him abundant success. His father, Mr. Wm. Henry, accompanied him.

We hope to be able to give you more news next time. Mr. Editor, we remain, Yours truly, B. W. HENRY.

Hon. A. M. HICKS Accepts.

EDITOR HERALD: In reply to the call of "Democrat" published in a late issue of your paper, asking me to become a candidate for State Senator from this county, I will say that if it is the desire of the people that I continue to serve them in that capacity, I will most cheerfully do so, and authorize you to announce me as a candidate for re-election, subject to the action of the Democratic convention.

Thanking "Democrat" for his good opinion and complimentary words, and the people of the county for the honors conferred on me in the past, I am, Most respectfully, A. M. HICKS.

After participating of a sumptuous supper, made jolly by the unity and faith of the young men who felt called of their possession of the heart in question, we returned to the parlor. "Good-Night" was chosen for the next game, much to the delight of some of us, who knew that it meant a pleasant promenade on the piazza. Though the pleasure of short duration, for the zenith of the past evening had grown to be a cold, freezing wind, which made it a fair competition with the cold of the night.

TRIBUTE TO THE MEMORY OF MR. E. A. MAJOR.

"After life's bitter fever."

Born in Amite county, this State, June 24, 1824, he quietly breathed his last at his residence near Danville, Va., Feb. 18, 1891, in the sixty-fifth year of his age.

For many months he was suffering from a complication of diseases; his death, though not unexpected, met a gloom and sadness over the entire community in which he lived.

He was a genial, generous nature, an all-around man who enjoyed his acquaintance, or shared the hospitality of his sunny home, where culture and refinement lent an indescribable charm. His pleasant address and affable manner, intelligent conversation and sound judgment, rendered him an agreeable and instructive companion, whose presence was a welcome addition to any assembly.

Of special, integrity, and never-receding to a trust, yet humanity is not without its frailties, but his virtues so far over-balanced his defects as to a great extent, to obscure them. His memory will ever linger lovingly in the hearts of a wide circle of friends.

His death was a severe loss to the community of many attributes that are rarely met in one man. He was a true friend, a true neighbor, a true citizen, and a true patriot.
